

YOU'RE INVITED TO A

Family Tree Gathering

Why:

When:

Where:

Please bring any of the following you wish to contribute:

We are so excited to visit with you and hear your stories!

©Season for Family // seasonforfamily.com // Instagram & Facebook: @seasonforfamily

YOU'RE INVITED TO A

Family Tree Gathering

Why:

When:

Where:

Please bring any of the following you wish to contribute:

We are so excited to visit with you and hear your stories!

©Season for Family // seasonforfamily.com // Instagram & Facebook: @seasonforfamily

YOU'RE INVITED TO A

Family Tree Gathering

Why:

When:

Where:

Please bring any of the following you wish to contribute:

We are so excited to visit with you and hear your stories!

©Season for Family // seasonforfamily.com // Instagram & Facebook: @seasonforfamily

YOU'RE INVITED TO A

Family Tree Gathering

Why:

When:

Where:

Please bring any of the following you wish to contribute:

We are so excited to visit with you and hear your stories!

©Season for Family // seasonforfamily.com // Instagram & Facebook: @seasonforfamily

“We finally have the doctrine, the temples, and the technology for families to accomplish this glorious work of salvation. I suggest one way this might be done. Families could hold a “Family Tree Gathering.” This should be a recurring effort. Everyone would bring existing family histories, stories, and photos, including cherished possessions of grandparents and parents. Our young people are excited to learn about the lives of family members—where they came from and how they lived. Many have had their hearts turned to the fathers. They love the stories and photos, and they have the technological expertise to scan and upload these stories and photos to Family Tree and connect source documents with ancestors to preserve these for all time. Of course, the main objective is to determine what ordinances still need to be done and make assignments for the essential temple work.”

- Elder Quentin L. Cook

“We finally have the doctrine, the temples, and the technology for families to accomplish this glorious work of salvation. I suggest one way this might be done. Families could hold a “Family Tree Gathering.” This should be a recurring effort. Everyone would bring existing family histories, stories, and photos, including cherished possessions of grandparents and parents. Our young people are excited to learn about the lives of family members—where they came from and how they lived. Many have had their hearts turned to the fathers. They love the stories and photos, and they have the technological expertise to scan and upload these stories and photos to Family Tree and connect source documents with ancestors to preserve these for all time. Of course, the main objective is to determine what ordinances still need to be done and make assignments for the essential temple work.”

- Elder Quentin L. Cook

“We finally have the doctrine, the temples, and the technology for families to accomplish this glorious work of salvation. I suggest one way this might be done. Families could hold a “Family Tree Gathering.” This should be a recurring effort. Everyone would bring existing family histories, stories, and photos, including cherished possessions of grandparents and parents. Our young people are excited to learn about the lives of family members—where they came from and how they lived. Many have had their hearts turned to the fathers. They love the stories and photos, and they have the technological expertise to scan and upload these stories and photos to Family Tree and connect source documents with ancestors to preserve these for all time. Of course, the main objective is to determine what ordinances still need to be done and make assignments for the essential temple work.”

- Elder Quentin L. Cook

“We finally have the doctrine, the temples, and the technology for families to accomplish this glorious work of salvation. I suggest one way this might be done. Families could hold a “Family Tree Gathering.” This should be a recurring effort. Everyone would bring existing family histories, stories, and photos, including cherished possessions of grandparents and parents. Our young people are excited to learn about the lives of family members—where they came from and how they lived. Many have had their hearts turned to the fathers. They love the stories and photos, and they have the technological expertise to scan and upload these stories and photos to Family Tree and connect source documents with ancestors to preserve these for all time. Of course, the main objective is to determine what ordinances still need to be done and make assignments for the essential temple work.”

- Elder Quentin L. Cook

